Skate Park Face Lift

Clearlake, CA – June 13th, 2017

City of Clearlake Public Works crews were busy today doing their annual “face lift” of the Andy Johnson Memorial Skate Park located at Austin Park. Crews replaced the decking and enhanced the supports for the various ramps due to heavy use and some recent vandalism. According to Public Works Director, Doug Herren, “We plan for this annual face lift of the skate park each year and the cost to fix comes out of our limited parks budget.”

City Manager, Greg Folsom, stated “The Andy Johnson Memorial Skate Park is a nice amenity that the city has for the skaters and bicyclists in the community. It’s nice to see that the skate park gets used so frequently.”
